ALL-COLLEGE VIC DANCE
The Student Senate will sponsor an all-college vic dance Saturday from 8 to 11 p.m. in lower Babcock. Ticket will be 15 cents per couple. No home basketball game is scheduled for that evening.

THE WOOSTER VOICE

SUPPORT RED CROSS!
For such a worthy cause as the Red Cross, students should give ten dollars. The Student Senate however, is asking that students give but one. Pay your share now!

Dr. Buttrick Will Speak At 72nd Commencement

Committee Selects Pastor Of New York's Madison Ave. Presbyterian Church

Dr. George Arthur Buttrick, pastor of the Madison Avenue Presbyterian church in New York City, will be the guest speaker at the 72nd annual Commencement exercises, Monday, May 11, beneath the elms. Dr. Buttrick, who is well-known and respected in this area, spoke on the campus in April 1928, as a guest of Westminster church, and again at the Presbyterian Synod, in June 1933. The Public Occasions Committee, of which Dr. Roy I. Grady is chairman, decided on Dr. Buttrick at their meeting on Jan. 17, and a favorable reply to their invitation was received last week.

He was born in Seaham Harbor, Northumberland, England, Mar. 23, 1892, and graduated from Lancaster Independent College, Manchester, 1915, Victoria university (honors in philosophy), 1915. He received his D.D. from Hamilton, 1927, Middlebury, 1928, Yale, 1932, and Miami, 1934. Dr. Buttrick is married and has three sons.

He was ordained into the ministry by the Congregational church in 1915. He was pastor of the First Union Congregational church, Quincy, Ill., 1915-18; First Congregational church, Rutland, Vt., 1918-21; First Presbyterian church, Buffalo, 1921-27; he has been with the Madison Avenue church since 1927. He is President of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America.

Dr. Buttrick has written three books: "The Parables of Jesus", 1928; "Jesus Came Preaching", 1931; "The Christian Fact and Modern Doubt".

Deans' Office Numbers Cuts for 2nd Semester

The Deans' office announces that church and chapel cuts for the second semester will be as follows:

First quarter, eight chapel cuts and three church cuts will be allowed.

Second quarter, eight chapel cuts and four church cuts will be allowed.

The second quarter will begin Mar. 16.

Facts In Review

Dean Denies Rumor

Miss Rachel MacKenzie, dean of women, denied today that the college was planning to place a ban on all orchestra dances, in an interview with a Voice reporter.

The statement was made after it had been rumored on the campus that the Douglass hall formal was to be replaced by a vic dance, and that all formal dances on the Hill would have to be given hereafter without orchestras. Dean MacKenzie said that there was no truth in these rumors.

Jerry Stryker, president of the Student Senate, assured Voice reporters that previously arranged orchestra dances sponsored by the senate would be held. The Spring formal, tentatively scheduled for April 17, is the next all-college orchestra dance to be given.

Negro Speaker Will Inaugurate 'World After War' Lectures

Bayard Rustin will speak to the Sunday Evening Forum on "Basis for Just and Durable Peace" at the Forum meeting Sunday, Feb. 1, in Taylor hall at 7 p.m. Mr. Rustin is the first of several speakers who will present viewpoints on the world after the war.

Mr. Rustin is a young negro speaker who talks under the sponsorship of the Fellowship of Reconciliation which is an international organization advocating and studying the settling of world difficulties by peaceful means.

For several summers Mr. Rustin has worked under the American Friends Service Committee in various parts of the world. Last summer he was in Puerto Rico doing reconstruction work in the native settlements.

Mr. Rustin is a graduate of the New York City college and has done work on his master's degree at Columbia.

Immediately after the forum meeting in Taylor hall there will be time for discussion and questions, and then Mr. Rustin will hold a discussion group in lower Babcock for all who are interested.

The leaders of the Sunday Evening Forum say that Mr. Rustin is an extremely dynamic and interesting speaker and the students are especially invited to hear him and to talk with him.

Men May Register At City Hall Feb. 16

Obedient President Roosevelt's proclamation, Wooster students over 20 years of age will register for possible military service on Feb. 16, registration day throughout the nation.

There will be no special registration points available for college men according to Judge Critchfield of Wooster's Draft Board. College men will register at the regular enrollment points, either at Draft Headquarters on East Liberty Street, across from the City Hall or in the City Hall itself.

While Feb. 16 is the official day of registration early enrollment has been made possible for men working, particularly those men in defense industries. At Wooster early registration will be carried out on Feb. 14-15 from noon until 6 p.m. On Monday, Feb. 16 the registration will continue from 7 a.m. until 9:30 p.m. College students are asked to register on Monday.

This registration is solely for those men between 20 and 45 years of age. Registration for other ages, which will particularly affect college students, will be announced later.

Frosh Debators Discuss Parliamentary Procedure

Freshman Debate will hold its next regular meeting at 7 p.m. in Taylor hall on Monday, Feb. 2. Order of the evening will be a parliamentary procedure meeting on the election of officers.

Three-Fold Plan Adopted in Red Cross Campaign

Faculty Show, Meatless Dinner Aid $1500 Drive

The Wooster effort in the nationwide Red Cross Drive was set in motion with an appeal for contributions by Prof. E. K. Eberhart in Chapel Wednesday morning. The drive will last for one week from Jan. 28 to Feb. 4 and will strive to reach a goal of $1500.

The drive will be headed by Ilene Smith for the Student Senate with the cooperation of a Faculty Committee composed of C. B. Moke and W. F. Kieffer.

A three fold plan to reach the goal has been adopted by the Student Senate.

First, a one dollar contribution will be obtained from 800 students to fulfill a $800 student quota.

Second, a five dollar contribution will be solicited from each member of the faculty to fulfill a $300 faculty quota.

Third, the remaining part of the drive will be met by five proposals to be carried out during the rest of the semester. These five proposals are:

1. Contributions from campus organizations.
2. Contributions from the college employees (except faculty).
3. Proceeds from a planned Faculty Variety Show.
4. Proceeds from meatless dinners.
5. Small change contributions in the form of donation boxes placed around the campus and at the various social functions.

All the money that is received will be turned over to the Wayne County chairman of the drive to help fill the county's quota of $20,000. This in turn will be the county's contribution toward the $50,000,000 goal of the American Red Cross for this year.

Ohio Colleges Hold Defense Discussions

A special business meeting of the Ohio College Association has been called for Saturday morning, Jan. 31, in Columbus. This meeting was called by President Henderson of Antioch and other members of the executive committee.

Attending from Wooster will be William R. Westhafer, Dean of the College; E. Kingman Eberhart, chairman of the faculty defense committee; Vergilius Ture Anselm, Fern, Dean of the Summer Session; and John Bruere, Dean of Men.

The meeting has been called to check on the actions which have been taken by the various colleges to meet the war emergency. There will be an endeavor to preserve some uniformity in the new college programs in Ohio.

"Beauty and the Beast" Presented as Psuedo-Broadcast by Musical Society

Scott Auditorium, was changed into broadcasting studio, WBCB Monday evening, Jan. 26, for the first stage performance of the radio opera, "Beauty and the Beast." The transformation was immediately apparent with microphones, loud-speaker system, sound-effects-man Dick Weldon, and announcer, Pete Gruber. The opera was presented precisely as in a broadcasting room, correct even to details of instruction for radio audience behavior.

Under the direction of Professor and Mrs. N. O. Rowe of the Conservatory, "Beauty and the Beast" was one of the regular study programs of Fortnightly Music Society. Members of the society have each year produced a light operatic work. In presenting a radio opera this year, a departure was made from the usual dramatic musical productions heretofore given. As it was a work for radio, the audience was left to enjoy it as pure music, and to develop its own scenery and action.

The performance Monday was outstanding, and the work difficult to do. The efforts of the cast, said Prof. Rowe, were "highly commendable."

Written in extreme harmony with combined and complex rhythms, designed to fit the accent of words, the musical score is considered one of the most cleverly written of modern com-

Conover, Lytle Head Book Drive

Pictured above are Ruth Conover, of Trenton, N. J. and William Lytle of Ben Avon, Pa. both members of the Class of 1945 and members of the Student Senate. They are in charge of the canvass to be made on the campus for books for the nation-wide "Victory Book Campaign" which is being conducted this week.—Courtesy Daily Record.

Sponsored by the American Library Association, the Red Cross, and the United Service Organizations for National Defense the Victory Book Campaign is a national movement with a goal of 10,000,000 books for the use of the men in our armed forces.

Representing the Student Senate, Bill Lytle and Ruth Conover have charge of the Wooster campaign. The report is that the campaign which started early Tuesday morning has made a good start and shows all prospects of being a great success.

There will be a place in each dorm for the collection of books. The library will serve as central headquarters for the drive on the campus.

Prof. Frederick W. Moore spoke in the chapel Tuesday morning to enlist the aid of the college students in the collection of books for the Victory Book Campaign. He spoke as an ex-service man and told how much a few good books had meant to him in the last war.

15 New Students Enroll, 5 Enlist

"Six new freshmen, three transfer students, and six returning students will be added to the second semester enrollment," says Arthur Southwick, registrar.

Men who left Wooster the second semester to enter the armed forces of the United States are David Ormond, enlisting in the Coast Guard; Jim Martin, navy air corps; John McCandless, naval reserve; Alan Nicholson, in U. S. Army; and John Scherer, U. S. Army.

W.A.A. Bridge Party Will Aid Red Cross

To climax the all-college Red Cross drive the W. A. A. will sponsor a dessert bridge in lower Babcock on Saturday, Jan. 31, from 2 to 5 p.m. All students, faculty and faculty wives are invited to attend.

Twenty-five cents is the price of admission with all proceeds being placed in the "$1500 goal" Red Cross fund. Prizes donated by Wooster business establishments will be awarded and refreshments served.

Ilene Smith heads the committee in charge of the event with Marjorie Wiley, Martha McCreight, Lois Grove, Ruth Kress, Gloria Parker, and Miss Mary Jean Buccalo aiding her.

Senate Shortens Color Day, Shifts Date to May 8th

Because of the shortened semester the Student Senate moved the date of Color Day back to Friday, May 8. These plans for the 1942 Color Day celebration were discussed and approved at the Student Senate meeting Monday, Jan. 26.

Acting on suggestions of a Committee of Faculty and Students, the Student Senate decided to shorten and simplify the celebration and to cut expenses to a minimum.

The celebration will be held in the Stadium on the afternoon of Friday, May 8, at the end of examination week. It will fall in the middle of Senior Week which will be shortened this year to three days.

The Senate also voted to abolish the traditional May Queen dinner and dance. It has been the custom in former years for the May Queen to finance these affairs herself, but at last year's celebration the Senate assumed these responsibilities.

The committee suggested the abolition of the Senior Maypole Dance, but the Senate left this suggestion for further consideration.

The date of the Color Day dance which is usually held in the evening after the celebration has been tentatively set for May 8, but must be worked out with the senior class to conform with their Senior Week plans.

This Committee which held a meeting Thursday, Jan. 22, is composed

Voice Campaigns For Increased Reporting Staff

The Wooster Voice will hold a meeting of all those upper-classmen and freshmen who are interested in becoming members of the college newspaper staff in the Voice office in Kauke hall tomorrow at 3:30 p.m.

This will be the last opportunity that members of the present sophomore class will have to enter the race for Voice editor for the year 1944. Very few members of the present class are on the staff, and if no students make it known that they wish to be considered at this time, the class of 1944 may be deprived of an editor, the editorship going to a member of the class of 1945.

For many years the staff has been sadly in need of men and there are many positions open to all those who desire them in advertising, sports writing, general reporting, feature writing and in management.

In order to be considered eligible for editor, applicants must begin as reporters and advance to department heads and then to managing editors. The editor is chosen from all those applicants who are members of the junior class and who hold responsible positions on the editorial staff at the time selection is made.

At the present time there are many good jobs open for students who wish to get some journalistic experience along with their college education. Those members of the staff who prove themselves capable of accepting responsibility and do their work efficiently will be advanced rapidly.

Hop Directors Add To Production Staff

Max Napp, Ernest Muller, Dave Neely, Foster Lewis and Bob Sweetland have been named to the staff of the stage crew for "Tally-Ho", 1942 Gum Shoe Hop production, Walter Krumm, stage director, announced this week.

Krumm said that the "Shanty", campus hangout for Tally students, will be well-equipped with new tables and chairs and comfortable booths. A large bleacher and a small hot dog stand will provide atmosphere for the football scene.

June Whitmer, who is directing the chorus, reports that the chorus has been working on two numbers, the "Tally U. Victory" and the "Tally U. Fight" songs, in the first act rehearsals this week. Four boys still remain to be named to the chorus.

Dave Lanning will be in charge of the lighting, Jeannette Curtis will supervise costuming according to Celia Retzler, who is directing the entire production.

Senators Swear In Six New Members; Rearrange Schedule

Six new student senators were sworn into office at the meeting of the Student Senate Monday night, Jan. 26. The six new senators are Jim Bean and Ilene Smith, seniors, Paul Churton and Betty Lacy, sophomores, and John Renner and Lois Scott, freshmen.

It was decided to have a Senate Vic Dance Saturday night, Jan. 31 at 8 p.m. The dance will be held in Babcock and the usual admission of 15 cents per couple will be charged.

The Senate will sponsor a Valentine all-college sing. The sing will be held Sunday, Feb. 15, at 7 p.m. on the library steps.

It was suggested that the Senate circulate petitions asking Fred Waring to write a college fight song for Wooster. Paul Churton was appointed to circulate the petitions.

The other newly elected Senators were also given specific duties. Ilene Smith has charge of the Red Cross drive. Betty Lacy was appointed chaplain, Lois Scott was appointed decorations chairman, and John Renner was made inventory chairman.

The Senate also revised its schedule of events for the next semester.

Election of May Queen—Mar. 16-20 Spring Formal—Apr. 17.

Student Senate Elections (all classes) Mar. 31-Apr. 3.

Election of Student Senate President—Apr. 6-10.

Election of Class Officers—Apr. 20-24.

Color Day—May 8.

Douglass Will Speak To Y.M.C.A. Feb. 4

Dr. Curtis R. Douglass will give a discussion on vocations at the meeting of the Y.M.C.A., which will be held Wednesday, Feb. 4 in Douglass lounge at 7 p.m. His topic for discussion will be "What are you going to make of your life?"

This is the first program of the new semester under the new committee heads. They are: Program chairman, Haines Reichel; Social chairman, Henry Rutledge; Permanent Office chairman, Bill Joseph; Publicity chairman, Dick Craven; Leader for the downtown Hi-Y, George Miller; and Meetings chairman, Clark Weygandt.

The members of the Y will be given the choice of committees on which they wish to serve. They will be asked to make this choice at the meeting on Feb. 4. Also there is an urgent need for leaders for the downtown Hi-Y groups. Anyone interested should see some member of the Y cabinet or George Miller.

The Home and Family Relations series of programs is scheduled to start Wednesday, Feb. 11. The time of the meeting for this series of talks has been changed to 9:30 p.m. in Douglass lounge.

Physical Education Dept. Instructs in Life-Saving

Under the tutelage of Miss Ruth Saddler of the physical education department a new course for aspiring Red Cross life saving instructors began Tuesday, Jan. 27. It is an evening course with two hours of aquatic instruction on Tuesdays and one hour of class work on dry land. One hour credit will be given.

Working in collaboration with the gym classes the future instructors will aid in teaching novices to swim, thus gaining the required hours of instruction.

At present ten girls and two boys are enrolled.

Just Wishful Thinking

For some eight weeks now, we have waited; we have hoped that some word might be given to us to indicate that the Men's Self-Government Association really intended to formulate a new constitution. After contact with M. S. G. A. head, Hayes, we felt sure that some attempt would be made to revise the antiquated rules, but feeble beginnings so far have wrought nothing. It was just wishful thinking!

This organization, composed of all men residing on the Wooster campus, should rightfully command the respect of every Wooster student and faculty member. The members of the Kenarden Council supposedly composed of the cream of these men should set an example to be followed by the youngest freshman and the oldest senior. They are the ones upon whose shoulders lies the responsibility for enforcement of the constitution. If they themselves can not support that which embodies everything Wooster stands for, then something is radically wrong with the caliber of the Wooster male.

It was indeed a sorry day for Wooster when Dale Carnegie wrote "How to Win Friends and Influence People." Everyone is so busily engaged in making friends and retaining old ones that they sacrifice not only their own standards, but others too, in order to play the role of the good fellow.

The Kenarden Council has definite standards which it is obligated to maintain under the M.S.G.A. constitution, and the section presidents are responsible for their enforcement in their respective sections. It has been too easy for any man in a public position to turn his back upon violators and rationalize for his "friends." We use the term "friends" somewhat facetiously, since no true friend would test his companion's authority when he knew it would necessitate hypocrisy. If the present set of rules is too rigid and no one person can find himself imposing restrictions upon others which he can not obey himself, there is only one way out; that is to revise the constitution to fit existing circumstances.

We could discuss at length the changes needed in the organization to make it efficient and smooth-running. It has been suggested many times that some form of self-government closely supervised by the M.S.G.A. be arranged for the freshman men who make up a vast number of the association's membership. If the students are taught from the time they are freshmen that the M.S.G.A. stands for righteous principles, soon the entire student body will recognize that fact. The resulting prestige and authority would be immeasurable. Only in this way will the M.S.G.A. be able to regain successfully that enormous amount of authority and prestige which has been lost during past years.

It is the duty of a college newspaper to attempt to improve the campus on which it is located as much as possible and to publicize and constructively criticize those organizations which continue to bring standards down. In all sincerity, we feel that the M.S.G.A. is the most ineffective and feeble organization of its kind on the Wooster campus. It is our intention in the best interests of the students to stimulate and motivate this apathetic body to action no matter what measures may be necessary!

This is Civilization

"... the mob began gathering at 11:30 a.m. They forced the doors of the City Hall and grabbed their victim: Wright. offered resistance, and said nothing. He was stuffed into the trunk compartment of a motor car and taken to the negro district where he was dragged through the streets behind an automobile. Later the body was cut loose and gasoline applied."

No doubt this Negro deserved to be executed; he had committed a crime against the state. Last week Cleo Wright admitted he stabbed and critically wounded the wife of an army sergeant. We say no doubt this Negro deserved to be executed, BUT not murdered by 300 white citizens of Sikeston, Mo., who decided to take the law into their own hands.

After reading such an account, we wonder if we can believe our eyes! Have people gone completely mad? Are we living in a medieval world, one in which we still have and quarter our fellow men? It takes an incident such as this, an incident so appalling and so ghastly in nature, to show just how civilized we really are.

ERSATZ . . .

By GLEN BRYAN

In this modern age synthetics and substitutes are being made for everything. Nylon is replacing silk, soy beans are replacing steel, and dandelions are replacing rubber. Hence, in an effort to keep pace with the times the Voice presents this column as a substitute for the good humor which was once printed here. Just as ersatz is a substitute for cow meat you will find the meat of this column is largely bull.

Speaking of defense: If the girl whom I tried to kiss the other night was in charge of the Philippines we would have nothing to worry about.

MEMOS from the DATE BOOK

By Jo

In our calm and unruffled manner we have contributed our items in the past with something less than a demure attitude, but when faced with an emergency, we feel quite capable of lighting the fuse of our social week-end with a bit of TNT. So, please stand back, lady, we're blasting!

Friday evening, we are playing host to Wilmington on our basketball court and naturally expect this opposing team to be ignominiously subjected as others to the habitual haranguing of the inhabitants of the southeast corner of the gym balcony, who visibly defend and noisily champion their stellar member (singular) on the floor. Heretofore, whereas, withal and thereupon we think this display much too conspicuously and despicably noticeable and very decidedly adolescent. We sincerely hope this may be received cum grano salis as the idea of a public reprimand is not original with this columnist.

After the cries of victory echo over the campus and become mere ether waves, various groups will look to entertainment for the remainder of the evening. MILLER MANOR gals Open House to their respective swains until 11, and FIFTH SECTION, likewise, calls to the fold its particular brand of de-louvelies to view its peculiar and publicized type of house-keeping.

KAPPA THETA GAMMA's promised stage dance is also docketed until 11 this same evening, and the Thespians hope that this time nothing will arise to prevent their footlight specialty.

Saturday the W. A. A. invites ALL Wooster to lower Babcock for participation in a desert bridge. The cause is a commendable and worthy one—for the benefit of Mr. Berlin's "Angels of mercy with crosses so red."

At the same time SECTION NINE takes matters into their own hands, spurn the opera broadcast, and offer open house at the Section House, Beall Avenue, on Saturday afternoon—to while the usual gloomy January afternoon hours away with dancing and companionability.

Since the team will be away Saturday night, discomfited fans will be allowed to wander to Babcock about 8 and dance innocuously but pleasantly to music styled the Vic recording way until 11.

And in the meantime, FIRST SECTION will, with rival recordings, tune up Galpin basement to their own speed, for an informal and private swing session, probably featuring pre-eminent jitterbugs, Park and Devitt. Time for this is 8-11, also.

And so we now assume our usual expression and retire, but placidly, into our own little shell again. The fuse has been lighted and all that remains is for you to make your appearance in the flare this week-end, and then Lights out.

Letters to the Editor of the Voice

The Voice invites its readers to express their opinions in a brief and courteous manner. Each letter must bear the signature and address of the author, but the name may be initialed if the author so desires. The editor reserves the right to accept or reject any communication.

Editor's Note: Pvt. Gordon Smith's letter was written Dec. 24 from Oahu, T. H. In a personal note he writes, "Who'd have thought I'd spend Christmas in Honolulu last year at this time?" The letter had been censored by army officials and the regiment number was "blacked out." Pvt. Smith was graduated from Wooster's Conservatory of Music in the class of 1940 and resided in Orrville.

To the Editor of the Wooster Voice:

I have been on the move since I last received the copy of the Voice with my letter in it and so I do not know how it was received by the so-called majority. (The letter referred to was published in the Nov. 13 issue of the Voice.—Ed.) I was grateful to have received a letter or two from the minority.

Majority Was Asleep

It is painfully evident that the apathetic majority was asleep, but I have no doubt that since war has been declared that the opposite mood of excess fear and worry has ensued. I only hope that it does not develop into the fear that breeds hate and revenge. Wooster has many graduates in high places now, and will have from among its student group later. If the revengeful attitude is subdued I know that the seeds of the next war will now find fertile ground in the treaties following this one. We should not seek peace until this "Red dragon" has been stamped out and perhaps I shall have a hand in doing that job. It is much closer to me than it is to you, I assure you! But you may be closer to the treaty makers than I, and should do your part in helping to prepare the ground so that the grain of peace may grow unafraid for the tares that may be sown with it.

Pacific Greatest Ocean

We had a peaceful crossing on the boat. It occurred to me enroute that the Pacific was the greatest of all the oceans and also the most peaceful. It's grandeur is unquestionable. Likewise we are the greatest and can afford to be the most charitable. Charity is not always peaceful, however, as is evidenced by the loving father who chastizes his son in order to save him from his own mal-doing.

We cannot lose if everyone does his part; put worry out of mind, and do whatever you can to promote our national effort.

To the Editor of The Wooster Voice

Since the outbreak of war, numerous inquiries about the activities of the Committee for Freedom and Peace have come to members of the group. The erroneous conception seems to be that it now has no function. Perhaps you will allow me to explain what we are doing.

The original purpose of the Committee was to support the government's attempt to insure the defeat of Hitler AND to study plans for the post-war peace. When war was declared, there was no longer any necessity for expression on our part of anti-isolationist sentiment, and, in the interests of campus unity, our publication, the "Whisper", was discontinued.

Study Peace Proposals

The Committee then proceeded to devote all its effort to the study of plans for a durable peace. To this end we held one open meeting at which Dr. John Hutchison spoke, and we continued to hold weekly meetings up to the week before final exams.

On Jan. 9, Dean William Westhafer offered to convert our work into a regular college course. This was done in order to cooperate with the Government's request that American colleges devote some effort to the comprehension of the problems of a post-war world. Because the course would be open to students who do not hold views identical with the Committee's, the members voted to drop its identity in this connection. The course was scheduled as History 246, Post War Problems. The course being, per force, a discussion group, it was decided to limit the enrollment to 20. Preference was given to upperclassmen, selection being made by priority of application.

Group Affiliated Nationally

The Committee will continue to function where and when its functions may prove effective. It is now connected with similar campus groups in the newly organized Student League of America. And it will support local, national, and international efforts to secure a just and lasting peace. The Committee made continuous and earnest pleas for the cooperation of the students and faculty before war began; the same cooperation is more earnestly urged today.

Sincerely yours,
John Bathgate

Just Ad Libbing

Wartime, despite its destructive tenor, is proving itself of educational value in many ways. That we have or will profit from its teaching is a dubious averment, but not our immediate concern so we shall not launch forth upon a sermon, "War, the Great Teacher". We shall leave that for history to determine, knowing full well, nevertheless, that someone at this moment is probably in the throes of creating some such work.

Dilemma

But to return to our original thesis; the war is proving most enlightening—if only to serve in extending our vocabularies. At the very outbreak of the war we discovered that it was correct to resort to profanity when discussing the enemy. We couldn't, of course, take complete advantage of this momentary laxity in social behavior, so we had to uncover suitable expletives—that is, suitable for the society in which we might find ourselves, but sufficient to bare our heartfelt sentiments. Then too, the very obvious natural color of our enemy, the Jap, proved rather embarrassing for those of us who had become accustomed to labelling everything despicable, "yellow". Somehow, the venom which should accompany the utterance of that word now lacks the desired potency and as a truism it fails completely to render the proper satisfaction to our righteous indignation. Such being the case we had no recourse but to familiarize ourselves with the use of words properly expressive of our wrath.

Blankety Blank!

The adverb "dastardly" has proven an excellent word to use and has become almost synonymous with Pearl Harbor, et al. When used as a noun it is even more effective and if employed with the correct veneer and proper timing it may be passed off and accepted in any kind of society. There are many others, of course, not quite so descriptive, but once mastered with the proper accompanying facial expressions and bodily gestures will adequately vituperate any enemy whatsoever. For those who might have been confounded as we were, we list a few of the recent additions to our own vocabularies. Out of the respect due to our own ego it is only fitting that we do not divulge some of our really good ones—and it is understood of course, for which form of society these are suggested. (They have been arranged in ascending order.): "Wicked men, Evildoers, Scoundrels, Reptiles, Devils incarnate, Workers of iniquity, Nefarious sons of Hades, Malfesants, recidivists, etc." Beyond this point one should exercise care or change the subject.

A M !!!

We have, however, one other oath we might pass on. It is with a great deal of reluctance that we do so, for we have become somewhat fond of the use to which we have put it and we are just a bit proud of the amazement among our friends whenever we drop it in their midst. However, we feel that herein is a panacea we ought to share with our fellows for we recognize the need of a good solid oath which will relieve these times which are trying the souls of all men. It is a perfectly respectable curse inasmuch as it will not be cause to oust one from the society of one's elders and yet, if a good deal of effort is put forth it should invoke the wrath of all the gods of history to descend upon our foe. It will necessitate a good deal of practice before one can venture to try it in the company of others but this should serve as a time in which to test its value. If one will make a habit of repeating it to himself just before retiring at night it should prove an excellent sedative and a cure for all who suffer from tossing in bed. Having achieved perfection one may then try it upon one's best friend, and if the desired reaction occurs, it is well in hand and yours to show its merit. Slowly at first, accompanying it with the appropriate emotions, pronounce each vowel and then repeat faster and faster until your indignation glows with appeasement—"anathema maranatha! anathema maranatha! anathema maranatha! anathema maranatha! anathema maranatha! anathema maranatha!"

Snavelly Says Higher Education Needs Intelligent, Consecrated Leadership

By Associated Collegiate Press

Higher education must have for the coming year an intelligent and a consecrated leadership. The selective service and other war measures have already disturbed its program. More drastic changes are quite possible.

In order to gain the victory in this dreadful war and also to win the peace at its conclusion the nation must have a steady flow of educated leaders. This is not only true for the military forces and governmental agencies, but equally so for industry, business and the professions.

Very wisely has the selective service made provision for deferment of induction of those college students training to be physicians, dentists, veterinarians, engineers, physicists, chemists, biologists, and geologists.

Colleges Accelerate Program

Because of the lowering of the minimum age for selective service, most of the colleges have decided to accelerate their programs. For some years about two-thirds of the member colleges in the Association of American Colleges have had summer sessions. The length of these sessions has varied from six to twelve weeks. The tendency now is for colleges to have full summer quarters of twelve weeks in length.

Colleges are making changes in the curriculum to meet the exigencies of the situation. New courses have been added and to others have been given a bias of a military nature. Wisdom would indicate that much poise is necessary in proposals for curricular shifts, as the men still need as much time as possible for a well-balanced curriculum of humanities, social sciences and the natural sciences.

Increase Air Forces

It is evident that the war will be won more quickly if we can increase

A band you might like to listen for is Will Osborn and his "new Hollywood band", as he calls it. He broadcasts over Columbia Network several nights a week at 12:30. Like most newly-formed bands, his is a bit ragged, but it will iron out in time. His swing arrangements are not very modern, in fact, a bit on the Dixieland side. On sweet tunes, however, the combination has a fine style. The weakest spot is probably the vocalist, Mary Ann. Weird is the word for her. She attacks all her notes about three tones flat and slides up to the note, or approximately thereabouts. Otherwise, Will's new band has some good potentialities. He is using very little of the "slide rhythm" which he formerly featured with his old crew.

Scene: A room filled with fellows. Conversation: "Wow, what a solid band! See if you can't tune it in a bit clearer. Listen to those sections; how full and solid they are! Say, what band is that?"

Oh-oh, gotta watch out. Gotta play this cagy; can't get caught up. It seems that people expect us to be able to identify the bands—a tough job. Well, it must be a colored band anyhow. That tenor man is very good and, from his tone and style, we can tell he is colored. Maybe we can stall a while until the announcer gives the name of the outfit.

"What's that you say? What band is it? . . . Ooooooh, listen to that trumpet solo. That man is really good—plays fine stuff and has a high range. Well, in answer to your question, the band is . . . Say, are you listening to that piano, really good, isn't it? And now the sock chorus—the band certainly has good arrangements, very modern and full. There's the announcer. What band did he say? Andy Kirk and his Clouds of Joy? Why, of course, we were just going to say that. He is playing from the Grand Terrace in Chicago. He's on the air at 1 a.m. almost every night on N. B. C., Red Network." Whew, that was a close call.

THE SCORE BOARD

By JOHN STRANAHAN
Voice Sports Editor

In downing Bowling Green last Saturday night, Wooster reduced the obstacles that might prevent them from winning the Ohio Conference crown to two—namely Mount Union and Muskingum. The Muskies are no longer in the running as far as conference honors are concerned but neither were they last year when they knocked Wooster from the lead in the last game of the season.

There is nothing that would give our friends from New Concord more pleasure than to repeat last year's performance. As far as Wooster is concerned, you can bet your bottom dollar that the Scots will show no mercy toward Muskingum after the rather unbecoming reception staged for our benefit last year.

The average Wooster fan has elephant-like characteristics for he has the ability never to forget. The rivalry started two years ago when Coach Hole introduced his players with several minutes remaining in the ball game. Since then the feud has been on and will continue until one of the two schools takes the initiative and stops.

However you may look at it, the big game of the season will be at Alliance Feb. 18. Both Wooster and Mount Union are undefeated in Conference competition and will probably remain that way until that fatal night. Both quintets can score from any place on the floor. Joachim, Schlott, Baughman, and DeWitt have averaged well over ten points a game. The Scots can match this scoring punch with Kate, Hudson, and Eicher.

Last year Wooster pinned Mount's ears back with a 55-42 lacing. Shortly after the game Coach Bob Wright of Mount Union told the newspapers that he thought his team could beat the Scots on any floor except the one here at Wooster. Some dickering went on for a return game but this was out of the question, especially when the Purple Raiders backed into the conference crown.

During spring vacation an independent tournament was staged at East Liverpool, Ohio. The varieties of Wooster and Mount Union were entered under assumed names. Mount had its chance to back up the statement that they could beat Wooster on any floor but the one that they had played the Scots on during the regular season. Destiny seemed to step in and East Liverpool High School's team plus their coach, knocked the conference champs out of the running. Wooster went on and lost in the finals to Duquesne's varsity.

It was interesting to watch the facial expression of Dick Gernert, ex-Wooster star, who is now aiding with the coaching chores at Bowling Green, as he sat on the Bowling Green bench during Saturday's game. Gernert could not help but smile when Captain Kate and Harry Eicher started dropping in baskets from all angles. When the Bowling Green players looked toward the bench for advice, Bones seemed to say, "Don't worry boys, I played with those guys and I know it is practically impossible to stop them." After the game Gernert said that he felt that the Falcons played one of the best games they have played all season. There was no doubt in anybody's mind that Bowling Green was the best team the Scots have encountered on their home court this season.

Luckily for Wooster Rich Sproull's shoulder injury has healed sufficiently for him to see action over the coming week-end. Dick Craven, who subbed for him in the Bowling Green fracas, turned in a fine performance, but Rich's height was sorely missed under the basket. Mose Hole will undoubtedly handle Sproull with kid gloves, for another injury at this stage of the game might prove serious.

Wooster Whips Bowling Green 55-39, Kate, Eicher, Hudson Score Heavily

In a hard fought, well played game which featured several fine plays by both squads, Wooster defeated Bowling Green on Jan. 24, 55-39. Karl Kate once again led the scorers as he hit the bucket for eight field goals and two fouls for 18 points. Ertley, blond hook shot artist for the visitors, dropped in 12 points on six baskets.

The first half was the closest battle seen on the Wooster floor this year. The lead changed hands four times in the opening minutes, but Harry Eicher tapped in a rebound to put the Scots ahead, 12-11. Craven sank a long shot, Kid Kate scored on a cut, and Wooster was out in front to stay. Eicher, Hudson, and Kate kept up a steady scoring pace to match the point-making of Ertley and Johnson and the Scots led, 33-22, at the half.

Eicher sank a lay-up to open the second half, and Wooster slowly pulled away from the orange and brown clad opposition. Ertley was the only man to score with any consistency for Bowling Green as Kate and Eicher carried the scoring burden for Wooster. With the score at 53-34, Coach Hole sent in the second team. Play was very rough for the rest of the game with the whistle shrilling constantly for fouls and jump balls. Halter's pop shot in the last minute was the only basket made by the second team.

Captain Karl Kate played a stellar game all the way and was easily the outstanding man on the floor. Sophomore Dick Craven did a sparkling job of filling injured Rich Sproull's position. Wooster's shooting was off in the first half, the team taking 57 shots and only connecting on 13.

Hudson, Kuhn, Katherman Brighten Future Outlook

Hudson, Kuhn, and Katherman may develop into another Gernert, Hole and Grenet.

By HERB ERVIN

When Coach Mose Hole's basketball squad defeated Bowling Green here last Saturday night, it was the Scots ninth victory in ten starts. As the season developed there was question in the minds of Scot fans whether the Sophomore hopefuls would produce. To fill the shoes of the great Hole, Gernert, Grenet combination was no easy undertaking, yet the records testify that the Sophomore cageman have done just that.

Katherman Accurate Passer

Jerry Katherman, sophomore guard, has shown exceptional consistency on the floor with his accurate passes and splendid ball handling. Jerry is fast and aggressive, and exhibits outstanding tact and finesse for a player of his size and weight. Led by Kate and Katherman the Scot forwards seem to have the confidence necessary to score. Katherman's tendency to pass to a team-mate when he himself could tally has brought words of praise from the Scot followers time and again.

Teamed with Katherman is Dale Hudson a sophomore who operates from a forward position. Hudson's ability to score is partly due to his speed, partly due to his being basket conscious. Once under the opponent's basket his shots drop through the hoop with uncanny accuracy. His ability to handle the ball with either hand has led him to develop a hook shot which is difficult to stop under any conditions. Hudson has a fast break and he invariably avoids the opposing guards who misjudge his speed.

Kuhn Good Defensively

Denny Kuhn, another sophomore forward, hasn't seen too much action this year. Denny's best work has been on the front line on defense. Here he is able to stop or harass the opposing offense, bolstering the Scot's already stout defense. Denny also has a fairly accurate shot.

Saturday is the big day set by the W. A. A. for their annual dessert bridge. This year all proceeds will go to the Red Cross. Twenty-five cent tickets are being sold by the members and may be bought at the door. Everyone in the school is invited. The place is lower Babcock and the time is 2 to 5 p.m.

The badminton tournament is progressing with a game before the semi-final scheduled to be played between the Misses Buccalo and Jacobs of the Physical Education department and Gretchen Johnson and Lois Wilson.

Don't forget to report for basketball practice Tuesday and Thursday nights and Saturday mornings. Looks like a great season ahead!

The swimming marathon chart shows that the freshmen are way ahead of the rest of us. Aren't we going to try to stop them?

There will not be a co-ed Play Night this Friday, its all up to Mose's boys to provide the fun.

Frosh Get Doublecross

Wanted, one team from Canton! If anybody has seen them, please send them over to the gym because they were supposed to play the frosh last night. Much to the freshmen's amazement they never showed up. Maybe it is just as well they didn't show up considering the team that was waiting to give them a drubbing.

A very definite air of mystery surrounded the gym last night for nobody knew just what team from Canton the yearlings were supposed to play. That is nobody knew except Mose Hole but he couldn't be found around the gym at 8:01 p.m.

Wooster Outmaneuvers Rider 65-40, Fouls, Fight Feature Rough Game

In the roughest game played on the Wooster hardwood this year, the Scots defeated Rider college, 65-40, on Jan. 20. A total of 28 personal fouls, 16 on Rider and 12 on Wooster, were called. At one point in the second half, play became so rough that a near free-for-all among the players took place.

Wooster ran up a quick 11-0 lead and stretched it to 20-5 after five minutes of play. At this point, Scot hopes for the season received a severe jolt when veteran guard Rich Sproull suffered a recurrence of a shoulder injury received in football. A marked difference in play followed, with Rider battling the Scots on almost even terms.

Kate, Hudson Battle For Scoring Honors

After ten games in the present cage season Karl Kate is leading Dale Hudson by one point as the high scorer on the Scot team. In ten games Kate has made 140 points while Hudson has racked up 139. Following the two leaders is Harry Eicher with 98 points. Harry has an average of 14 points in each of the last three games to bring his average up. The other two members of the starting five, Jerry Katherman and Rich Sproull are tied with 56 points each. Hudson and Eicher have been most effective under the basket while Kate has been a deadly threat with his long shots.

Denny Kuhn has a total of 23 points to his credit. He has seen action in seven games. Bob Black has hung up 10 points, Bob Cope 6 points, Don Halter and Dick Craven 5 points each, Rog Stoneburner and Bill Vigrass 4 points each, Bob Douglass 3 points, and Dick Crandall 2 points.

The fine fighting spirit of the Scots has made them tops defensively. Their 33.9 defensive average is the best in the state. This average, coupled with their offensive average of 55.1, makes them a combination to be feared by all comers.

Ohio Conference Colleges Decide on Spring Sports; May Use Frosh Gridders

By EARL NELSON

Representatives of the 20 teams of the Ohio Conference met at Mansfield on Jan. 24 to discuss the pressing question of spring sports and the rules on freshman eligibility. The managers had met before on Dec. 6, the day before the attack on Pearl Harbor and had decided to take no action on the freshman rule. The question of spring sports has since been raised. Many of the schools that were not in favor of freshmen being allowed to play have reconsidered because of enlistments and the 20 year age bottom on the selective service act.

Spring Sports Settled

The question of spring sports has been pretty well settled. Graduation at Wooster will be May 11. All contests scheduled on or before May 9 will be carried out as originally scheduled. Those scheduled after this date have been moved up whenever possible and, when not possible, they have been dropped.

This new system will make short, well-filled seasons in all of the sports—baseball, track, golf, and tennis. This scheme was the only alternative for the schools affected by early graduation, and has worked out with pretty fair success.

Frosh Football Indefinite

The question of the freshman football rule has not been worked out quite so definitely. This question has been taken by a committee of members to be considered until the conference meeting in the latter part of March. This committee will recommend its findings at the meeting at that time, and the final results will be decided at the meeting later in the spring.

At present it seems almost certain that the rule will be passed in favor of freshman participation. Ashland college has already dropped its football schedule for next year. In order to continue football in the schools of the conference during and after the war, most of the schools feel that it is vitally necessary that the rule be passed in favor of freshman participation.

Intramural Teams See Action After Exam Week

Although exams cut the intramural basketball schedule last week, six games were played on Monday night of this week. Three of these six games were decided by one point. Kenarden II knocked Kenarden V from the undefeated ranks, 18-17 while the Freshmen defeated Kenarden I, 23-22. In the Douglass League, Douglass VII-VIII defeated Douglass III, 32-31.

Frosh Designate Favorite Section; Hell Week Near

Choice of Section Due in Deans' Office by Friday Under Kenarden System

In back of the brief announcement made by Dean Bruere to the freshman men in chapel Tuesday, that their choice of sections was to be due Friday, lies an intricate scheme of placing the freshmen into the various sections of Kenarden. This plan, known as the Kenarden System, is the result of years of experimentation and in the past few seasons has reached a stage where practically every freshman is placed in a section of his own choosing.

Procedure Insures Contact
The following is the general plan of the system: By eating with the different members of the various sections, by visiting them, and by attending their social functions, the freshmen gain a fairly good idea of which section they would like to join. An announcement is then made by the dean's office that the freshmen are requested to designate their first, second, and third choices of the section they would like to join on regulation blanks. These choices are distributed by this office to the sections that were chosen.

A long drawn out section meeting is then held in which the members vote on those to be admitted. Their voting is naturally affected by the choices made by the freshmen, but not necessarily dependent on it and a freshman may be chosen who hasn't indicated his preference for that section in any way.

Bids Distributed by Dean
The bids to the various selectees decided upon are distributed by the dean's office. One freshman may receive as many bids as there are sections but this is rare. However, there is frequently some selection to be made and the freshman must do this with little or no interference from the sections because rushing is very definitely taboo. After the final decision and a written acceptance note, all that remains before a freshman is declared a member of the section is "hell week" and the formal initiation.

AFTER A FASHION AT FREEDLANDER'S

Just browsing around on third floor I ran across a pastel wool that I could not live without. It's at this time of year that every clothes closet looks its shabbiest—and one of these lovelies perks up one's spirit no end. And the price can't help but catch your eye—$8.95. There are many styles and colors—blue, aqua, rose, gold, and that present fashion favorite, winter white! I suggest one of these wools to carry you through until you're ready to plan that all important spring wardrobe.

I learned at the sweater counter that the demand for Tish-u-Knit white sweaters at $2.95 can now be filled. Better hustle right down and get one while they last—they're long slip-overs with a round neckline.

"Hooded Honeys"—that's the name for the long-fringed wool squares you have seen jauntily tied around many a gal's curls. You'll find them in plain colors like CELIA RETZLER'S white one—or in beautiful plaids. I was mad about a plaid in shades of pink. The squares are priced at $2.00; the triangles at $1.00—first floor.

Jacoby Recommends Growing Profession

By DR. GEORGE W. JACOBY
Medical Director

Nursing is a rapidly growing profession both for young women as well as young men. In view of the long academic program now advocated for this vocation, and the increasing demands for more and more nurses a short course of business training as a part of this academic work is helpful. Combination nursing and secretarial positions are open both in offices and as companions for elderly people. Other opportunities unfold themselves for those trained along these dual lines.

The Civilian Pilot Training course which has been offered for the past two years is again being scheduled for upperclass men. Registration for this course is continuing through this week, but John D. McKee, coordinator, expects the quota to be reached by the end of the week.

Since the United States entrance into the war, an affidavit is required of each applicant for the course in which he agrees to enlist in the armed air forces upon completion of the C. P. T. or to continue in this pilot training if so desired. Other requirements are evidence of citizenship and an identification card.

The work consists of 72 hours instruction in ground school courses and 35 to 45 hours of flight instruction, for which four hours of college credit will be given. The courses in the ground school phase are meteorology, 24 hours, Mr. Moke; navigation, 24 hours, Mr. Williamson; civil air regulations and general service of aircraft, Mr. Meyer.

Rev. Rath Opens Study Of Far Eastern Situation

Rev. Charles E. Rath, formerly a missionary in the Philippines, spoke to International Relations Club Wednesday evening in Babcock basement. He discussed our Far Eastern allies, the Philippines. This was the first of a series of studies the group will make of allies in the Far Eastern theatre of war.

At the previous meeting of International on January 9, Dr. William Hail outlined the history of Japan's totalitarianism and her plans for a co-prosperity sphere.

audition the aria, "Shadow Song", from "Dinorah".

The auditions, sponsored by the Sherwin-Williams Company, are conducted by Winifred Pelletier of the Metropolitan Opera Company. From singers appearing each Sunday, two or three groups will be selected for semi-final competition. Finals will be held late in the year. Lansing Hatfield, who appeared on the campus last year, was one of the successful winners of the 1940-41 audition series.

Miss Rowe's audition, which was to have been held a few weeks earlier, had been postponed because of a severe attack of laryngitis. She, together with Robert Payson Hill, '30, presented a joint recital here during the Seventy-fifth Anniversary of the college in October.

Kappa Theta Starts Rehearsals For New Play, Cast Chosen

Rehearsals began in earnest this week on the Kappa Theta Gamma production of "The Man Who Came to Dinner", one of the most amusing and popular plays to hit New York since "Abie's Irish Rose." This play will be presented in Taylor hall on Mar. 12, 13, and 14.

This Kappa Theta Gamma play has a host of characters, 36 to be exact, and a complicated set; it is probably the most ambitious program that the dramatic society has ever undertaken. Royalties required for this production will be practically the largest in Wooster's history, exceeded only by "Dear Brutus," the first play ever presented in the Little Theatre.

Society Anticipates Success
The dramatic society feels that the popularity of the play itself coupled with the fact that it has not yet been generally released for amateur production justifies them in anticipating that they will have an enthusiastic support both from the student body and the general public.

Play Production class, under the general direction of Mr. Arthur Kaltenborn, will have charge of scenery building and all general stage work.

As the set is somewhat more complicated than most of the sets for plays in the past, the construction of this one will present a real challenge in building, to say nothing of procuring some unusual properties, such as a case of cockroaches, a crate of live penguins, and an Egyptian mummy case.

Cast Listed
There are numerous players selected who are not members of the Kappa Theta Gamma but who are among the best talent on the campus. Those in the production are: Martha Stark as Mrs. Stanley; Lois Clowes as Miss Preen; Jane Menold, June Stanley; Clarice Miraldi, Sarah; Evelyn Roberts, Mrs. Dexter; Ruth Mary Woolf, Mrs. McCutchen; Alice Neff, Maggie Cutler; Helen Kelly, Harriet Stanley; Virginia Lee, Lorraine Sheldon; Herb Rogers, Mr. Stanley; Charles Ireland, John; Robert Marsh, Richard Stanley; Walter Krumm, Dr. Bradley; Paul Gruber, Whiteside; Ray Gillman, Jefferson; Doug Zook, Prof. Metz; Foster Lewis, Sandy; John Bathgate, Carrollton; and John Stalker as Banjo.

W.S.G.A. Announces Schedule For Work
The schedule for work on surgical dressings in the library room at Hoover has been announced by the W. S. G. A. in cooperation with the Red Cross. This room has been made over as a work room for the college girls.

Following is the schedule of dorm nights and the girl from each dorm who is responsible for announcements:
Monday: Annex, Pat Marker; Crandell's, Ruth Giele; White's, Mary V. Miller; Adam's, Marjorie Mills. Tuesday: Hoover, Margaret Rath. Wednesday: Holden, Mary Jane Benson. Thursday: Babcock, Louise Stewart. Saturday afternoon: Westminster, Margaret Craft; Miller, Sadie Eveleigh; Korner, Nancy Helm; Colonial, Ellen Kline.

The dorms are asked to cooperate and go on the scheduled evenings in order to avoid confusion and rush nights.

The organization will sponsor a Virgil contest at the local high school in the near future.

College To Add Courses Aiding Defense Efforts

Faculty Passes Phys. Ed. Course; Grants Leave Of Absence To Nurses

A physical education conditioning course, consisting mainly of callisthenics and running, for junior and senior men only, was approved at a faculty meeting, Monday evening, Jan. 26. Students eligible for the course will be permitted to schedule this as an extra hour's credit.

The class will meet Monday, Wednesday, and Friday at 4:30 in the cage, and the first class will be held tomorrow. The classwork will include callisthenics and similarly organized drills, aiming to get the students in good physical condition by the end of the semester.

Students Granted Leave
Action was also taken to grant a leave of absence for the senior year to prospective students of nursing. Upon certification of the completion of the first year's work in nursing, they will receive a baccalaureate degree from Wooster.

This plan can be followed only under the following conditions: the student must have completed at least 94 semester hours, of which not less than 60 must have been done in this college. This work must show a B average. The requirements of the college for the degree of B.A. must also be met. The requirement for a major will be met by pre-nursing scientific courses. Anyone interested should consult the entrance requirements of the various schools.

Students May Be Placed in Class V-1

The Bureau of Navigation at Washington, D.C., has sent out a release which states that students in school and college who have passed their 17th and not reached their 20th birthday may be enlisted in class V-1, Naval Reserve, and upon their own request, may be placed in inactive duty until the completion of their current scholastic year unless the military situation necessitates the Navy Department's calling them into active duty beforehand. Commandants will not call any of these men to active duty until orders are issued by the Bureau of Navigation. Naval recruiting will continue on a voluntary basis.
